Thanksgiving.

As the rays of the morning sun awoke music in the Memnon statue, so does the yearly Thanksgiving day arouse gratitude in the heart of man. This recurring festival of gladness appeals more forcibly to our nature than any other season; for it celebrates the bounty of our Maker for the universal wants of His children. The barvest of the North Temperate Zone is gathered for the sustenance of half of the human race for the coming year, and the most culightened portion of mankind unite with us in our praise to the Giver of every good and perfect gift.

The blessings which have been given us are marked by one which, when enjoyed, is seldom thought of, but, when withheld, most deplored. As one of our cotemporaries yesterday remarked, good health has prevailed to an unusual extent in this locality. While other Southern cities have been scourged by the pestilence which walketh at noonday, it would seem that the Angel has seen the marks upon our door posts and passed us by.

For this and for many other reasons, we have abundant cause for thankful-

Spanish Resources.

In the event of a war with Spain, it is worth while to inquire into the ability of our adversary to maintain it .-Although nothing more than a cursory view can be taken of her power, yet her history presents so many salient points that a few may be taken for the whole.

It may be premised that a war would be chiefly on the ocean, and the Spanish West India Island. Spain has an immense navy on paper, and perhaps cd condition of that country would indicate. But if the show of ships and guns is great, a deficiency of the men who fill her navy probably exists. The first Napoleon, in enumerating his wants, said they were ships, commerce and colonies; that, if France had these he could cope with England whose domain was the ocean. But there was still one thing which goes further to train men for maratime war than either of the three mentioned by Napoleon .-The great fisheries train men to a life of endurance and peril on the sea far more thoroughly than do the pursuits of a peaceful commerce. When Phillip launched his armanda, and hoped by it to effect the conquest of England, the latter nation was far inferior numerically to her opponent. But the destruction of that vast armament was complete, by the courage of the decendants of the Scandinavian pirates. Again at the naval engagement of Cape St. Vincent the British defeated a Spanish squadron of nearly twice the strength of the victors; and, in fact, everywhere the two mations of the prohibition of inquor within three miles of any private or public school in Shallotte township, Bruns-like county. The chief enemy we would have in Cuba or Porto Rico would be the climate. The Spanish soldiers, as soldiers, have been for a century the laughing stock of Europe; though as predatory bands they are formidable. The term guerrilla exactly describes best the capability of a Spaniard for a soldier. Too proud and indolent to subject himself to thenecessary discipline to fit him for open warfare, his disposition leads him to carry on a contest which degenerates into plunder and murder.

Although a war for conquest ought never to be sought by a nation, yet there is notaing left us, should no alternative be presented but war, but to place it beyond the power of Spain to injure or insult us us by her continued denominations in the West Indies. We acquired more from Mexico by the event of a war than the entire Spanish posssessions in the Antilles; and as no war leaves a country where it was at the beginning, we may conclude that, should the United States and Spain become engaged, that the result will be a free

NATURE'S THANKSGIVING.

BY J. G. WHITTIER. The harp at Nature's advent strung Has never ceased to play;
The song the stars of morning sung
Has never died away;
And prayer is made and praise is given
By all things near and far;
The Ocean looketh up to Heaven. And mirrors every star,

Its waves are kneeling on the strand,
As knees the human knee—
They bow their white locks to the sand—
The priesthood of the sea.
They pour their glittering treasures forth,
Their gifts of pearl they bring;
And all the listening hitls of earth
Take up the song they sing.

The green carth sends her incense up From many a mountain shrine; From folded leaf, and dewy cup, She pours her sacred wine. The mists above the morning rills. Rise white as wings of prayer; The altar curtains of the hills

The wind with hymns of praise is loud, Or low with sobs of pain— The thunder organ of the cloud— The dropping tears of rain.
With bonded head and branches crossed.
The twilight forest grieves
Or speaks with tongues of Pentecost
From all its smilt leaves.

The blue sky is the temple's arch. Its transept earth and air; The music of its starry march, The chorus of a ora er.
So Nature keeps the reverent frame
With which her years beg n,
And all her tongues and voices shame
The prayerless heart of man.

AND WHEREAS, The Board of Aldermen are advised that it is the duty of the said Wilmington and Weldon Railroad Company to creet and maintain bridges across such cuts where the same cross or intersect the streets in the city, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN, That in their opinion the public necessity demands the creation of bridges at the following points where the said Railroad intersects the following streets to wit: Second Street, Third Street, fifth Street, Sixth Street, Seventh Street and MacRae Street.

RESOLVED, That in the opition of this Board, the width of the bridges over said Railroad cut or excavation on Second Street should be thirty feet wide, on Third Street forty feet wide, on Sixth Street Twenty-five feet wide, on Seventh Street wide, on Seventh Seven feet wide, on Sixth Street Twenty-five feet wide, on Seventh Street, twenty feet wide, on McRae Street twenty feet wide.

RESOLVED, That in the opinion of this Board, the Bridge known as Boncy Bridge, where the Railroad crosses Fourth Street, is so narrow as to impede the passage of travellers on the same, and that a bridge of fifty feet wide would be necessary to accommodate the public at that point, THANKSGIVING DAY .-- To-morrow having been designated by His Excellency as a day for thanksgiving and prayer, it will very generally be observed in the city. Shooting matches and other excursions have been planued, the sportsmen of the city will take adantage of the holiday to go in pursuit of game, and many a poor fox will be worried. The public offices will be closed and services will be held in many of the Churches. Turkeys and pumpkin pies are essential concomitants to a Yankee thanksgiving dinner, and we presume many will be prepared for the day. The day has generally been observed by them as a day of family reunion, with the big dinner at the old comestead, where all the descendants sould meet and give thanks for their preservation. A WARNING .- In a certain village in the Western portion of this State, the postmaster, through courtesy, permitted a number of his friends to enter the interior of his office at pleasure. One day, after the mails had been received and distributed, the clever postmaster missed a valuable letter which had just been received. He could not believe that his trusty clerk had taken it, and he recollected that a Mr. C-, a preminent young man of the village, was, as it happened, the only one of his outside friends who was in the office at the time the letter was taken. The postmaster, to save himself and the reputation of his office, was obliged to take some steps in the premises, and he accordingly had a warrant issued for the arrest of Ccharging him with the theft. The magistrate held that the fact of C- 's being in the post office, contrary to law, was sufficient evidence on which to commit him.

Orders peremptory and plenary were issued by the Secretary to the Chiefs of Bureaus to put the navy in the best possible condition without awaiting for the approval of the Secretary.

The next orders issued were to Rear Admiral Case, commanding the European squadron, to leave but one ship at Cadiz, and proceed with the other ves sels under full steam to Key West.

Dispatches were then prepared for the Rear Admirals commanding the South Pacific and South Atlantic stations, which are now on their way, to order all the vessels of their fleets to Key West under steam, and report to the Navy Department at that point.

WEEKLY REVIEW or the WILMINGTON MARKETS.

To-morrow (Thursday) being the na tional thanksgiving day, there will be no paper issued from this office, and as it will be observed as a general holiday by our merchants, our review closes with to-night. The N. Y. Herald says: The trade movement was somewhat disturbed last week by the Cuban war fever, and the fluctuations of gold growing out of it but nevertheless, a fair degree of activity prevailed in most departments, and the markets were generally firmer. A better feeling almost everywhere obtained in commercial and financial circles, failures of mercantile and other houses being of seldom occurrence, while accounts from the manufacturing and other industrial interests of the country were of a much more favorable and reassuring character. It being evident that the panic had spent its force, and that a general reaction had set in cantile enterprises generally was naturally expected, and a much better state of feeling among the mercantile public was regarded as among the first results of the better state of affairs in the future.

And the history of the last week afforded many indications that these expectations will be fulfilled. The general improvement in the markets continued up to the close of the week. The sudden and unexpected cessation of navigation on the Eric Canal caused considerable excitement in the cereal markets, free supplies of which are so entirely dependent upon that means of transportation, and both flour and grain. experienced a very material appreciation as a direct consequence. It was hoped that the stoppage of business on the canal would prove to be only temporary, but it was nevertheless feared that the bulk of the grain and other merchandise frozen in would have to be brought forward by some other means; indeed, one of the leading railroads made a big bid for patronageevidently based on this belief.

CRUDE TURPENTINE - There has been a fair demand throughout the week with small offerings. Owing to arrangements made between the distilleries in our city and country producers, there is but very little of the the receipts of this article put on market, as the bulk of the receipts are placed on distillery Tar ...

yards at the "market prices." The market opened at an advance of 15 cts. for yellow dip, and remained unchanged until Monday, when it advanced to $2 for hard, and remained quiet, but firm, up to the close of our review. The receipts for the week foot up 968 bbls. against 1,235 bbls. of last week.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE-There has been no fluctuations in this market during the period under review. On Friday the market opened firm at 36} cents; and remained unchanged until Monday, when a decline of | cent was noted, but on Tuesday the decline of the day before was regained, and the market closes nominal at 364 cents .-The moderate receipts which about supply the demand is quickly taken and factors find very little trouble of disposing of their stock. The receipts this week foot up about 1,277 casks against 1,518 casks of last week.

Rosin-The market opened firm at $2 30 for strained, the closing quotation of our last review, but afterwards became somewhat easier, and a weakness in the undertone was noticeable, although factors endeavored to resist strennously the effect of the decline in gold and unfavorable telegraphic advices. Buyers demanded concessions, and as Rosin seemed to be on the decline clsewhere, our holders gave way gradually but reluctantly, and on Tuesday a sale of 500 bbls. of strained was effected at $2 15; which was a decline of 15 cts. from the opening quotation. To-day a firmer feeling is evinced and spot sales were made at an advance of 2½ cts. 2000 bbls, of strained, buyers option, for January, was sold at $2 40 .-The receipts for the week foot up 9,663 bbls. against 8,802 bbls. for last week.

TAR .- As on the previous week, we have a better feeling to report, and an advance of 10 cents to note. The market opened firm at $2 25, the closing figure of our last review, and remained unchanged until Monday when, under an active demand and very slight offering, an advance of 10 cents was reported. To-day the market opened at $2 35, but later it declined 5 cents, and closes firm at $2 30, with an active demand for shipping purposes. The receipts for the week foot up 383 bbls. against 490 bbls. of last week.

Corron. - The continued improvement in financial affairs, and the very limited stock in our yards, which is market, and since then a steady demand has prevailed and prices have advanced I et. for the week.
